3. Benefits of investing in the Burrell World Equities Trust

No additional information.

4. Risks of managed investment schemes

Neither the Responsible Entity nor Burrell Stockbroking guarantees the performance of the Fund, the repayment of capital or any particular rates of return. Returns are not guaranteed, and the value of your investment upon redemption may be less than your investment in the Fund. Past performance is not a reliable guide to future performance and should not be relied upon to predict the value of an investment.

Risk v Potential Rate of Return

Generally, the greater the potential return of an investment, the greater the risk of loss. To help understand the correlation between risk and return, investors should refer to the following table where, in the second column various risks are defined and the third column shows this correlation of potential return. The table illustrates how the categories relate to each other in terms of risk and return.

Risk Category	Description	Potential Return
Cautious:	You are seeking a relatively low-risk investment. You don't want to aim for higher returns if it means your portfolio may decrease significantly in value (e.g. Using the Standard Risk Measure (SRM) to calculate the likely number of negative annual returns over a 20 year period, you have the ability to bear up to 1 negative return over a 20 year period (SRM 1 to 2) and are comfortable with a low target return profile. We recommend a minimum investment term of three years.	Low
Conservative:	You are prepared to accept a small amount of risk. However, your priority remains the preservation of capital over the medium to long term (e.g. you have the ability to bear up to 2 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 1 to 2) and are comfortable with a low target return profile. As a conservative investor there is a risk of your portfolio decreasing in value, although this is substantially reduced for investments over the recommended minimum investment term of five years.	Low-Medium
Balanced:	You have some understanding of investment market behaviour and can accept some short-term risk of capital (e.g. you have the ability to bear up to 4 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 3 to 5) and are comfortable with a moderate target return profile. You do not wish to see your capital eroded by tax and inflation and are prepared to take some risk in order to gain long term capital growth.	Medium
Moderate Growth:	You are seeking a higher return investment. Your portfolio will have a bias towards capital growth, with the objective of preserving the real value of capital over time. Your portfolio will have a lower income in order to target a higher target return profile than other portfolio types in the near term, as a primary concern is to accumulate assets over the medium to long term. You are prepared to accept a higher degree of volatility and risk (e.g. you have the ability to bear up to 6 negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 6).	Medium-High
High Growth and 100% Equities:	You are seeking a higher return investment. You are prepared to invest for a long term and ride out extended periods of negative returns provided you may benefit from higher returns and possibly other risk factors, such as leverage. You understand that there is a high degree of volatility and risk with this portfolio type, and you may suffer capital losses (e.g. you have the ability to bear 6 or more negative returns over a 20 year period (SRM 7).	High-very High

This table is not a projection of expected returns and is only intended to demonstrate the general risk and return relationship. Past performance is no guide to future performance and cannot be relied upon to predict the value of an investment.

Financial Advice

It is recommended that investors obtain professional advice before making any investment decision. 6. Fees and costs

Additional Explanation of Fees and Costs

Management Costs

The Management Cost is estimated as up to 1.84% per annum of the net asset value of the Fund.

Management costs comprise the management fees payable to Burrell Stockbroking for managing the Fund's investments, an administration fee payable to Burrell Stockbroking for providing administration services and estimated indirect costs. The expenses of operating the Fund (other than extraordinary expenses) are paid by Burrell Stockbroking from its administration fee. We do not currently charge a fee for overseeing the Fund's operations as responsible entity and Burrell & Co Holdings Pty Ltd does not currently charge any fees for providing custodial services.

Management fee

The management fee is comprised of:

- a) Portfolio administration fees - Burrell Stockbroking is entitled to fees for the administration of the Fund's portfolio. For the first $500,000 of the Fund Value (being the gross asset value of the Fund), the fee is 0.44% per annum of the Fund Value; and for the amount of the Fund Value in excess of $500,000, the fee is 0.22% per annum of the Fund Value. This fee is calculated and accrues daily and is payable monthly in arrears.
- b) Investment Advice Fee - Burrell Stockbroking is entitled to fees for the investment management of the portfolio currently equal to 0.44% per annum of the Fund Value. The fee is calculated and accrues daily and is payable monthly in arrears.

If extraordinary or unusual expenses are incurred we may choose to recover these costs from the Fund and this will be reflected in the unit price.

We reserve the right to change fees and other costs without your consent, but subject to any limitations under the Corporations Act and other applicable laws.

Administration fee

Burrell Stockbroking provides administration services to the Fund, including accounting (tax), audit, registry and secretarial services, for which it is entitled to an administration fee. The administration fee is currently 0.76% per annum of the net asset value of the Fund and is calculated and accrues daily and is payable monthly in arrears. In consideration for the administration fee, Burrell Stockbroking is responsible for paying the expenses incurred in administering the Fund (other than extraordinary or unusual expenses and transaction costs).

Indirect costs

Indirect costs are reflected in the unit price of your investment in the Fund. This means that they are amounts that reduce the returns on the units that are paid from the income or assets of the Fund. The indirect costs shown in the 'Fees and costs summary' in section 6.1 of the PDS is an estimate, and the estimated cost is 0.41% p.a. of the net asset value of the Fund (for every $50,000 you have in the Fund, you will pay an estimate of $205 in indirect costs each year). The indirect costs may vary from year to year, including to the extent that they rely on estimates.

Indirect costs are an estimate of the indirect underlying management costs of managed funds, trusts, exchange traded indexes, exchange traded funds and listed investment companies in which the Fund invests from time to time. These underlying management costs are included in the security price or unit price of the applicable managed funds, trusts, exchange traded indexes, exchange traded funds and listed investment companies.

Custodian fee

Burrell & Co Holdings Pty Ltd is entitled to receive a custodian fee, but does not currently charge any fee to the Fund.

Other fees and costs

Transaction costs

Transaction costs such as brokerage, government taxes/duties/levies, bank charges and account transactions may be paid by the Fund.

Transaction costs incurred as a result of unitholders going out of the Fund may be recovered by way of the sell spread charged to investors. Other transaction costs are additional costs to unitholders that are deducted from the assets of the Fund. Such costs are recovered as they are incurred and reflected in the unit price.

The transaction cost amount shown in the 'Fees and costs summary' in section 6.1 of the PDS is an estimate, and the estimated transaction costs are 0.60% p.a. of the net asset value of the Fund (for every $50,000 you have in the Fund, you will pay an estimate of $300 in transaction costs each year), after taking into account the costs recovered by way of the sell spread. The estimated transaction costs for the Fund, excluding the amount recovered by way of the sell spread, are also 0.60% p.a. of the net asset value of the Fund (for every $50,000 you have in the Fund, you will pay an estimate of $300 in transaction costs each year excluding the amount recovered from the sell spread payable on withdrawals by investor) which reflects that, for the financial year ending 30 June 2023, there were limited withdrawals and the amount recovered from the sell spread was immaterial and did not impact the estimated transaction costs (as a percentage of the net asset value of the Fund). However, past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and this may not be reflective of the level of withdrawals in future periods.

Transaction costs may vary as the turnover in the underlying assets may change substantially as investment and market conditions change that may affect the level of transaction costs not covered in the sell spread. Further, there are highly variable drivers upon which such transaction costs are dependent.

Transaction costs: sell spread

When you withdraw all or part of your investment, we use what is called a sell spread to recover transaction costs incurred. Because there are costs in selling assets, we use the sell spread to direct these costs to investors withdrawing their investment rather than other investors in the Fund. We do not charge a buy spread on investments into the Fund.

The sell spread is the difference between the Fund's unit price and the redemption price and is a cost incurred by investors each time they withdraw funds.

The sell spread that applies to the Fund is calculated as 0.55% of the unit price and is subtracted from the unit price to determine the redemption price. Therefore, if you redeemed $50,000 of units from the Fund, the cost of the sell spread would be $275.

Adviser remuneration

If your financial adviser recommends you invest, or facilitates your investment, in the Fund, you can elect to pay them a commission up to 2.2% of the first $100,000 of your investment amount and 1.1% thereafter of any additional amount you invest, by marking the appropriate box on the Application Form.

If you instruct us on the Application Form to pay a commission to your financial adviser on your behalf we will deduct such amount from your application moneys and pay it to your financial adviser at the time units are issued.

For example, if your application amount was $10,000 and you requested we pay your financial adviser a commission of 2.2%, we would pay $220 from your application amount to your financial adviser and issue you $9,780 of units (and therefore you will have invested $9,780 in the Fund).

Extraordinary Expenses

The administration fee payable to Burrell Stockbroking generally covers the administration services required in operating the Fund. However, if extraordinary or unusual expenses are incurred beyond the scope of the administration services covered by the administration fee we may choose to recover these costs from the Fund. Examples of this type of expense include the costs involved in:

- convening a meeting of investors;
- termination of the Fund;
- amending the Constitution;
- defending or bringing of litigation proceedings; or

- replacement of the Responsible Entity.

Constitution fee provisions

The Constitution provides for a contribution fee (of up to 2.2% of an investor's application money) and management fees (of collectively up to 2.42% per annum of Fund Value) for the Responsible Entity. The Responsible Entity does not currently charge any fees to the Fund as fees are payable to Burrell Stockbroking for investing the Fund's assets and managing the portfolio.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

The fees specified in the PDS include the net effect of Goods and Services Tax (GST) and the benefits of reduced input tax credits (RITC) where applicable, unless otherwise specified.

Investors should not be directly subject to GST when applying for or withdrawing units in the Fund. However, the Fund may incur GST as part of the expenses of the Fund. The Fund may then be entitled to claim RITCs for GST incurred on certain expenses.

Taxes

A summary about the taxation considerations of investing in the Fund is set out in section 7 of the PDS.

Changes to fees and costs

Fees can change for various reasons including because of changing economic conditions and changes in regulation. We can change these fees and costs without your consent, subject to any limitations under the Corporations Act and other applicable laws, but we will provide you with 30 days written notice of any proposed increase in fees. We also reserve the right to waive or reduce any of the fees and costs described in this PDS without prior notice.

Fees may be individually negotiated with wholesale clients

Fund Constitution

The Fund is governed by a Constitution. The Fund's Constitution contains rules relating to a number of issues including:

- 1) unitholder rights;
- 2) the process by which units are issued and redeemed. We can accept or reject investments into the Fund at any time and are not required to give any reason or grounds for such refusal;
- 3) the calculation and distribution of income;
- 4) the investment powers of the Responsible Entity;
- 5) the Responsible Entity's right to claim indemnity from the Fund and charge fees and expenses to the Fund;
- 6) the creation of other classes of units;
- 7) the termination of the Fund;
- 8) retirement and removal of the Responsible Entity (including details of any relevant unitholder approval required); and
- 9) unitholders' liabilities (which are generally limited to the value of their investment). It is unlikely unitholders would be subject to any obligation to contribute further funds arising from a decrease in the value of the Fund, however this view has not been fully tested at law.

Together with the Corporations Act, the Constitution sets out the rules and procedures under which the Fund operates and our rights, responsibilities and duties as Responsible Entity, as well as those of investors. We may alter the Fund's Constitution if we reasonably consider the amendments will not adversely affect unitholders' rights. Otherwise (subject to any applicable exemption under law), we must obtain unitholder approval by a special resolution of the unitholders of the Fund. A copy of the Fund's Constitution can be inspected at our office or provided free of charge upon request.

Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing

Australia’s Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing (‘AML/CTF’) laws require Burrell Securities to adopt and maintain an Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing programme. A fundamental part of the AML/CTF programme is that Burrell Securities knows certain information about investors in the Fund. To meet this legal requirement, we need to collect certain identification information and documentation (‘Know Your Clients (‘KYC’) Documents’) from new investors. Existing investors may also be asked to provide KYC Documents as part of a re-identification process to comply with the AML/CTF laws.

Processing of applications or withdrawals will be delayed or refused if investors do not provide the KYC Documents when requested. Under the AML/CTF laws, Burrell Securities may be required to submit reports to AUSTRAC. This may include the disclosure of your personal information. Burrell Securities may not be able to tell you when this occurs and, as a result, AUSTRAC may require Burrell Securities to deny you (on a temporary or permanent basis) access to your investment. This could result in loss of the capital invested, or you may experience significant delays when you wish to transact on your investment. Burrell Securities is not liable for any loss you may suffer because of compliance with the AML/CTF laws.

US Tax Law Requirements

The Fund is a Reporting Financial Institution under the Inter-Governmental Agreement between the Australian and US governments in relation to the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (‘FATCA’), a United States tax law that imposes certain due diligence and reporting obligations on foreign (non-US) financial institutions and other financial intermediaries, including the Fund, to prevent tax evasion by US citizens and US tax residents through the use of non-US domiciled investments or accounts. Penalties can apply if investors provide false information.

To comply with the requirements under this Act, Burrell Securities will collect certain additional information from investors and will be required to disclose such information to the ATO. The ATO will share information reported to it by Reporting Financial Institutions with the US Internal Revenue Service. For further information in relation to how our due diligence and reporting obligations may affect you, please consult your tax adviser.

Common Reporting Standard

The Fund is a Reporting Financial Institution under the Tax Laws Amendment (Implementation of the Common Reporting Standard) Act 2016 that implemented the OECD Common Reporting Standard (‘CRS’) in Australia, requiring Reporting Financial Institutions in Australia to report to the ATO details of their foreign investors from participating jurisdictions.

To comply with CRS, we are required to collect information from investors to identify if they are a tax resident of any other jurisdiction(s). For non-individual accounts, we are also required to identify the entity type and whether any controlling persons are foreign tax residents. Processing of applications or withdrawals will be delayed or refused if investors do not provide the required information when requested. Penalties can apply if investors provide false information.

The ATO will share information reported to it by Reporting Financial Institutions to tax authorities of jurisdictions that have signed the CRS Competent Authority Agreement.

For further information in relation to how our due diligence and reporting obligations may affect you, please consult your tax adviser.
